Pentagon Taps Five Juniors In Chapel Ceremonies; Classes To Sing Tonight; McEwen Gives Student Awards

Johnston To Give Trophy In Chapel

Class and Charter Day activities will wind up tonight with the annual Class Sing at 8:30 p.m. and the awarding of trophies in the Chapel.

The Class Sing will start with the freshmen performing on the steps of Benedict Hall. The sophomores will follow on the lawn of the library, while the juniors will then sing on the steps of Root Hall. Climax of the affair will come when the seniors sing at Truax Hall.

Assemble In Chapel

Following the singing competition, students will assemble in the Chapel for the awarding of the intermural sports trophies and the junior plaque, which goes to the fraternity achieving the best overall record in intramural sports this year.

At this time, President Robert W. McEwen will also award a trophy to the class piling up the best record in Class Day sports and singing competition. Professor Thomas M. Johnston will then award a cup to the class which won the sing.

Sports Activities

Class Day sports activities included a faculty-student softball game this morning following the chapel service. Inter-class preliminaries in golf and tennis were also held at this time. The preliminary softball game between the classes took place yesterday afternoon.

Softball, tennis and golf playoffs were held this afternoon at 3:30 on the playing fields.

Judges for the interclass sing are: John Baldwin, Berrian Shute, Thomas Johnston, Robert Carson and Mrs. Brewster Gere.

VanAlstyne Promoted, Plans Return To Hill

John P. VanAlstyne, who will return to the Hill to teach Mathematics next semester after a year's leave-of-absence, has received a promotion from Instructor to Assistant Professor, President Robert W. McEwen announced this week.

VanAlstyne left for Columbia University last June to earn his M.A. degree and to begin work on his doctorate. He received his M.A. in January and has now completed much of the work for the Ph.D. VanAlstyne was graduated from Hamilton in 1944.

Gardner Explains College's Founding As Indian School

John H. Gardner, D.D., described the religious movement called the "Great Awakening" and the beginnings of Hamilton College this morning in his Class and Charter Day address in the Chapel.

College Trustee

Gardner, who is a graduate of the class of 1916 and a trustee of the College, told how this religious awakening influenced the work and life of Samuel Kirkland. The plans for a religious and intellectual mission to the Six Nations of New York was a direct outgrowth of this movement, which began about 1740.

Tracing the early life of Kirkland and later his adventures among the Seneca and Oneida Indians, Gardner showed how Kirkland furthered the plans for educational and religious training of young Indians. The closing part of Gardner's address described the results of this training as they emerged from the Hamilton-Oneida Academy and later from the College.

Baltimore Pastor

Gardner is pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Baltimore, Maryland. Born in northern New York State, Gardner is a third generation Hamilton graduate. While here, he was president of the Honor Court and the Interfraternity Council. He was also vice president of his class, a winner of the McKinney Prize Debate and a member of Phi Beta Kappa.

Winner of an honorary D.D. from Hamilton in 1941, Gardner earned his doctorate from Blackburn College in 1933. He also did graduate work after leaving Hamilton at the Presbyterian Seminary in Illinois.

Awards, Prizes Given In Chapel

President Robert W. McEwen awarded a total of forty fellowships, scholarships and prizes on behalf of the College to students at Class and Charter Day ceremonies in the Chapel this morning.

Win Scholarships

The following were the winners of fellowships and scholarships: Peter A. Franken, Root Fellowship in Science; Charles S. Levy, Truax Prize Scholarship in Greek; Daniel F. Gray, Huntington Mathematical Scholarship; Alan E. Samuel, Soper Latin Scholarship; Mark E. Elias, Duell German Scholarship; Charles T. Bates, Captain Gerald F. Dale Senior Scholarship; Russel J. Davies, Jr., Fitch Prize Scholarship in Latin; and James S. Magee, Student Christian Association Scholarship.

Prize Winners

More Prize Winers

Other prize winners were: Joseph A. Leistyna, Holbrook Prize in Biology; Stewart G. Pollock, Hutton Essay Prize; Francis P. Geraci, Kellogg Essay Prize; William A. Wehmeyer, first, and Robert H. Whitstock, second, McKinney Prize Debate; Carlyle C. Ring, first, and Charles S. Levy, second, for the juniors, Eliot G. Gesner,

Wheeler Names Staff For '53 Hamiltonian

Carl Wheeler, editor of The Hamiltonian next fall , has announced the names of other staff members this week.

Other Hamiltonian editors will be: Mike Stephenson, photography; George Sauer, art; Peter Constable, layout; Dick Smalley, sports; Jay Perlstein, organizations; senior editor, Tug Pfaltz and fraternity editor, Charlie Huber. Wheeler has also named his editorial assistants, who are Mike Parry, Hans Tschau and Carl Wachter.

McEwen Announces 4 Appointments To Fill 1952-53 Faculty Vacancies

President Robert W. McEwen this week announced four new faculty appointments to fill vacancies in the departments of History, Political Science, Geology and Economics.

Donald H. Riddle was appointed to the post of Assistant Professor of Political Science, while Sidney Wertimer, Jr. will hold the same rank in the Economics department. David J. McDougall will be Instructor in Geology, and Donald W. Disbrow will fill in for Associate Professor David Ellis of the History department, who recently received a one year leave of-absence to work on a history of New York State under a Ford Foundation grant. Disbrow was made an Instructor.

Riddle, who is now a full-time Assistant Professor of Politics at Princeton, received his B.A. degree there in 1949, after serving in the armed forces and holding several positions in business.

Wertimer will come to Hamilton from the London School of Economics, where he will receive a Ph. D. degree next month. He received his B.S. degree in 1942 from the Wharton School of the University of Pennsylvania. In 1949, he earned an M.A. from the University of Buffalo, after spending some time in that city working in the insurance business.

McDougall will receive his P.h.D. degree in Geology at McGill University in Montreal this month. He also did his undergraduate work at McGill. The holder of several fellowships, he has done much exploratory and field work for private industry

Social Committee Appoints Officers

David White was elected as the new Chairman of the 1952-53 Social Committee by the Student Council, it was announced following a Council meeting Monday night. White, a Theta Delt junior, was on the Committee in both his sophomore and junior years, and he is vice-president of his class both this year and next.

The other members of the Committee were appointed recently by White and the retiring Chairman, Bob Lang. They are: Charles Huber, publicity; Pete Whitcombe, treasurer; Dave Sagman, bands; and Comer Coppie, refreshments.

The Social Plan will run under what the Committee considers a more efficient system starting next year. Pending acceptance by the College authorities of a recently drawn-up constitution, the financial aspect of the Social Plan will be in the hands of the Administration, and the various activities of the Committee will be subject to faculty approval.

During registration in September, students would be asked, under the proposed constitution, to either buy a social ticket under the plan or sign a statement to the negative. The price of the Social Ticket would then be determined and put on the College bill. The new system of management of the Social Plan should considerably reduce the price of the tickets for next year, Bob Lang said, expressing the belief that the tickets should cost between five and seven dollars.

Hill Dramatic Group Elects Bill Woodman As '52-'53 Director

Sophomore Bill Woodman was elected Director of the Charlatans at a meeting of the Hill dramatic group last night.

Also elected were: Tom Raynor, Assistant Director; Carl Peterson, Production Manager; Francis Hastings, Business Manager and Harry Woggon, Assistant Business Manager.

Woodman, a DU, was Assistant Director this semester and Production Manager last year.

Council Picks Pfaltz, White and Seaman For Campus Posts

The Student Council at a meeting Monday night named three students to fill top posts on the campus.

Ron Seaman will head the Campus Fund drive next year, the Council announced. Heading next year's Publications Board will be Hugo Pfaltz. Also chosen was Dave White, who will act as Chairman of the Social Committee.

Seaman, a DU and president of his class this year, was treasurer of the Campus Fund drive in the fall and a member of the football squad and the Chapel Board. He replaces Silas Keehn in his new post.

Pfaltz, a Lambda Chi, is a member of the make-up staff of The Spectator and a past cross country runner and manager of the skiing team. He was president of his class in his freshman year.

Pentagon tapped its forty-ninth undergraduate class this morning during Charter Day ceremonies in the Chapel.

Named to membership in the five-man senior honor society were juniors Charles T. Bates, Donald R. Grant, Irving W. Reid, Ronald Seaman, and Donald Webster. They will be initiated tomorrow night.

Bates is president of the Chapel Board, a member of the Student Council, Sigma Phi, Pi Delta Epsilon, and the Charlatans. He has been a member of the choir, Was Los, and D.T. Football manager this fall, Bates is associate editor of The Spectator and was awarded the Gerald Fitzgerald Dale senior scholarship this morning. Bates is also co-captain of the swimming team.

Grant is president of Theta Delta Chi and a member of the Honor Court and the Athletic Advisory Committee. He is varsity catcher on the baseball team and has played junior varsity basketball. He has been a member of Was Los, D.T. and the Student Council, and he was the director of the recently completed campus blood drive.

A member of E.L.S., Reid is Co-captain of the track team and a member of the Honor Court, the Campus Fund Committee, the Student Council, and the band. He is secretary of the Chapel Board and has been in both Was Los and D.T.

Seaman is the chairman-elect of the Campus Fund Committee and has been president of the Junior Class. A member of Was Los and Delta Upsilon, he is on the Student Admissions Committee and was first-string quarterback on the football squad this fall. Seaman is also a member of the Chapel Board.

Editor of The Spectator, Webster is a member of Pi Delta Epsilon and is president of Delta Sigma Rho. A three year member of the debate club, he is also a member of Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity, the International Relations Club, ,and the all-College Social Committee.

Seven Professors Resign From Staff, McEwen Discloses

The resignation of four faculty members was announced by President McEwen early this week. One faculty member will take a year's leave-of-absence and three temporary appointees will terminate their affiliations this June.

Those leaving are: Gordon Shillinglaw, Assistant Professor in Economics; William Welch, Assistant Professor in Political Science; John F. Panatier, Assistant Professor in Physical Education; Cecil J. Schneer, Instructor in Geology; Wesley Frost, Visiting Professor in Political Science; Robert L. Murray, Visiting Professor in Greek; and Kalixt Synakowski, Visiting Instructor in Philosophy.

Business Position

Shillinglaw has accepted employment with Joel Dean Associates, Management Council. He will work in the field of economic analysis.

Welch plans to write political science articles this summer. Beyond that, his plans are indefinite.

Panatier, who has coached successful soccer and lacrosse teams while at Hamilton, has not yet made any definite plans.

Schneer will go to Cornell graduate school in the fall to work on his Ph.D.

Synakowski plans to finish his Ph.D. thesis this summer and then will accept a teaching position.

Murray will continue in his teaching post at Colgate which he has been holding simultaneously with his position at Hamilton.

RISTINE PLANS TRIP

Professor Frank H. Ristine, who will retire from the Hamilton faculty next fall, told The Spectator this week that he will spend the winter months next year in Florida with Mrs. Ristine.

DT Chooses Officers To Head Soph Group

Vince Coyle was elected vice-president of DT, sophomore honor society, in a run-off election held yesterday. The thirteen man group, tapped last Thursday after Chapel assembly, previously elected Pete VanVolkenburgh, Sig, as its president.

Arnold Elected To Head IFC

Bob Arnold, president of Psi Upsilon, was elected president of the Interfraternity Council for next year to succeed Frank Jewell of DKE.

Don Grant was named vice-president of the group, while Carl Wheeler is the new secretary-treasurer.

Grant who is a member of the Honor Court, also plays varsity baseball. He is a member of Was Los, and he has served on the Student Council. He is a Theta Delt.

Wheeler was recently appointed editor for next year of The Hamiltonian. Wheeler, a member of ELS, also is in charge of the intramural sports program.

John McMillan spoke at the meeting and advised the Council to combine the laundry and dry cleaning agency on the Hill.

Charles Bates also discussed Class Day activities with the members of the Council.

The results of the IFC poll of independents will be evaluated in the fall.

NEW IFC PREXY—Frank Jewell, retiring president of the Interfraternity Council, wishes Bob Arnold, elected president Monday night, good luck in his office next year.

Class Day Traditions On Hill Date Back To Eighteen Sixties

By Tom Raynor

Class Day has meant just about all things to all men. To the members of the class of 1909, it was another excuse for throwing Aleck Woollcott into the fountain. Trotting oozily back to his room to change, Woolcott was accosted by an interested alumnus and asked: "What, my young friend, is our Alma Mater training you to become when you go out into the world?" Replied Woolcott, "A fish, you darn old fool." Woollcott never forgot that Class Day.

No one knows when the first Class Day was held. The date of its establishment defies the memories of even the oldest and staunchest of Hamilton alumni. The closest approximation is 1860 or 1861. Early in its history, Class Day was a part of Commencement week, but in 1868 it was separated from Commencement activities.

Day of the Year

The editor of the Hamilton Literary Magazine commented in 1868: "Observance of Class Day was instituted at Harvard. It has now become the day of the year at Cambridge, eclipsing Commencement. It will eventually become the day of the year throughout the college world."

In those days, festivities were held in the park and in the village church in Clinton. Not until 1870 was Class Day held on the Hill. It was a day and night affair. Trees were illuminated by Chinese lanterns and music was provided by "Thomas' celebrated orchestra" or by "Gilmore's inimitable band."

Poets and Prophets

The 1870 activities were described by a Hamilton journalist as "something to be long remembered — the ghostly appearance of the class; the beautiful appearance of the park; the burning of the text books, and the music made it an unforgettable day. . . Taking part in the ceremony, in addition to the classes, were the orator, the poet, and the prophet."

All of which would imply that Class Day meant something quite different to students in the 19th century than it does to us.

Backward Glance . . .

It is easy to be pessimistic about the future in times as troubled as those in which we live. So easy, in fact, that most of us, professor, student and administrator alike, have been going about our tasks here on College Hill in doubt and uncertainty ever since the Korean War broke out, expecting the draft or the beginning of a full-scale war to interfere with our plans at any time. Professors have feared losing their jobs because of a reduction in the size of the student body; students have stoically faced the fact that their studies might be interrupted; and the administration has been wondering how to keep the College financially sound if student enrollment should drastically fall. So far none of these fears has materialized. No matter what the future might bring, we should be thankful for this. For in spite of the tensions, the past academic year has been a good one in many ways, and a look at the record will prove it.

Enrollment Satisfactory

A liberal draft deferment policy has kept student enrollment at a satisfactory level. Students have not been taken into the armed services in large numbers, and those who maintain adequate scholastic averages while here have the opportunity to remain and even to go on and do graduate work, if they desire.

The fact that enrollment remains high has enabled the administration to keep the College in the black financially. Not by much, it is true, but we still are financially sound. Of course we don't know what will happen next year, but it is encouraging to note that applications from high school seniors are up over last year. More than 150 acceptances for admission have already been issued, insuring a freshman class of adequate size next term.

The financial picture is also brightened by the opening of the second phase of the Development Fund campaign, after the successful completion of the first round last year.

Changes Made

Happily the College administration has not been paralyzed by fear. Sweeping and needed changes have been made in the curriculum, offering the chance of a better education to those students who are able to come here. The revamping of the Political Science department and the beginning of an Independent Study Plan for seniors are chief among these changes.

And student morale remains high. Our athletic teams, particularly tennis, track, soccer, baseball and golf, achieved better than creditable records this year. Also, the Choir won deserved applause for itself during the year in New York, Utica and right here on the Hill. And, as always, the Charlatans overcame difficult physical limitations to present several outstanding productions. All of this—not to mention the success of houseparties and the Social Committee program—indicates a healthy student attitude, a desire to make the most of their opportunities while here at Hamilton.

Yes, the 1951-52 year has been a "normal" one on the Hill, if no where else. If any hope is needed for the future, a look at the past should provide it.

Faculty Leaving . . .

At the end of this semester, four of Hamilton's full-time faculty members will leave the Hill. These men are Cecil Schneer of the Geology department, Gordon Shillinglaw, who has taught Economics, William Welch from the Political Science department, and John Panatier, a member of the athletic staff and coach of soccer and lacrosse.

We think that it is appropriate to state here, on behalf of the student body, our thanks and appreciation to these four men. They have combined the characteristics of enthusiasm and widespread experience in their fields, and those of us who have been instructed by them have profited from it. All have been able and conscientious workers who have required a high standard of performance from their students, as any soccer player or Poli Sci major can tell you.

In short, The Spectator wants to say thanks to these men for their contributions to Hamilton. We wish them all good luck in their future careers and hope hat they may often return to visit the Hill and their many friends here.

NAMES & FACES

By Bill Woodman

"Who on earth is that dreadful woman?" was the comment overheard by a spectator at the Charlatans' production, The Browning Version. The woman referred to was Betty Williams, who portrayed the shrewish and deceitful wife of an English schoolmaster. Her performance was so thoroughly realistic in every detail that several strangers in the audience assumed it to be a case of type casting.

Mrs. Williams is the exact antithesis of the wife in The Browning Version. Her husband, Assistant Professor G. Howard Williams, will solidly testify to this fact. They, along with their three children, Larry, Julie and Stephen, live at 22 College Hill Road in complete domestic harmony. The only time the Williams household ever suffers a slight confusion is during the week of a dramatic production on the Hill. "Then," says Mrs. Williams, "the problem of managing a family and giving a nightly performance becomes hectic."

Religious Role

At the age of twelve Mrs. Williams, then Betty Tucker, played her first role of real consequence—the Virgin Mary in a Sunday School Christmas Pageant. The perceptive local newspaper critic singled her out for her "moving performance and melodious singing of a lullaby." Her acting and singing were used to greater advantage in the high school senior class production of Seventeen, in which she played the baby-talking Lola Pratt. At Smith College, Mrs. Williams suddenly found herself cast as older women, and she says that "ever since then I've avoided playing 'heavy' character parts, at least until it's an absolute necessity." It took the Amherst College Masquers to give Betty Tucker one of her most fondly remembered roles, the lead in Kurt Weill's Knickerbocker Holiday. This was the first of a series of plays she was to do for the Masquers, both while in college, and later, when she returned to Amherst as the wife of Mr. Williams.

Summer Stock and Radio

Her summers in college were spent in varied theatrical capacities. The first summer she was an apprentice at the famous Cape Playhouse in Dennis, Mass. During the second, she understudied leading Gilbert and Sullivan roles for the Daltry Opera Company, which played the Watergate, Washington, D. C. and the Papermill Playhouse. Her third, and probably most grueling summer, was at the Starlight Theatre in Pawling, N. Y. The director was a former production associate of the late Florenz Ziegfeld, and his "old school" techniques included having the players stand at attention while he lectured during a rehearsal. Her performance with Phillips Holmes in The Philadelphia Story was noteworthy among other things because of a three minute ad lib speech she was forced to make when a player failed to make a scheduled entrance.

For a while Mrs. Williams braved the wilds of New York, in order to make a professional career as an actress. In the comparatively short time she was in the city, she succeeded in working steadily for N.B.C. and other networks. Her radio career began with a commercial for the detergent Spic and Span. As an unharried housewife, her part required her to say, "There's no rinsing, no wiping." What came over the air was "no wincing, no wiping." Despite this inauspicious start, she went on to appear on such programs as Road of Life, Woman of America, and Light of the World.

Outstanding Performances

The professional phase of Betty Williams' acting career ended with her marriage and return to Amherst. There she resumed with the Masquers and played the lead in Shaw's The Doctor's Dilemma, a part Mr. Williams still singles out as her outstanding performance. Hamilton witnessed her presence behind the footlights for the first time in 1949, when she played the gay Toinette in Moliere's Imaginary Invalid. Then followed the lovable Ellen Turner in The Male Animal, the previously mentioned Millie Crocker-Harris in The Browning Version, and just this Spring the bewildered and terrified Luba in Darkness At Noon.

The list of these parts clearly shows Betty Williams' extreme versatility. No sooner has she enchanted everyone in a Moliere comedy, than she turns around and stuns the audience with her venom in a Rattigan drama. Her contribution to the Charlatans has meant that in choosing a play the group never has to worry about whether a suitable person can be found to fill an important female role. Along with several other faculty and student wives, Betty Williams has donated her time and talent to make a distinctive contribution to the student activities at Hamilton.

Gilbert, Spender Speeches, Dinners To Highlight Commencement On Hill

By Dave Dickens

Addresses by the Rt. Rev. Charles K. Gilbert, '02, and the Honorable Percy C. Spender will highlight Hamilton's 142nd Commencement weekend on June 7 and 8.

Reverend Gilbert, retired New York Bishop of the Episcopal Church, will read the Fifty-Year Analyst Letter of the class of 1902 at the Sunday morning baccalaureate service in the Chapel. The Letter is an account of life at Hamilton fifty years ago. The graduating class will attend the service in a group.

Ambassador to Talk

Spender, Ambassador Extraordinary and Plenipotentiary to the United States from Australia, will deliver the Commencement address Sunday afternoon in the Sage building, where graduation ceremonies will be held.

The fifty-year class will be entertained by the class of 1927 at a Saturday morning Commons breakfast. President of the class is Clark H. Minor, also chairman of the College's Board of Trustees. Class secretary is John W. Van Allen. The Reunion Dinner will be held in the Alexander Hamilton Inn. The Class of 1927's dinner will be at Dible's Inn in Vernon. Both dinners are scheduled for Saturday evening.

Clark Contest

The Clark Prize Oration contest for seniors will take place at 2:30 Saturday afternoon. Participating in it are C. Addison Keeler, B. Franklin Patton, Philip E. Robinson, William J. Schwarz, William A. Wehmeyer and Robert H. Whitstock.

The College Choir, directed by John L. Baldwin, Jr., will hold a concert on the Chapel lawn, instead of inside the building, as was previously announced.

Student Committee To Aid Admissions

The Student Council has set up an Admissions Committee of students to assist Sidney Bennett, Secretary of Admissions, in getting students to come to Hamilton. This seven-man Committee, which has been working for over a month, recently named 60 other undergraduates to act as liasons between the Committee, their regional alumni and their secondary school administrators.

Ron Seaman was elected head of the committee at a meeting yesterday, while Ray Goehring is the new secretary.

The Council Admissions Committee includes: juniors: Ray Goehring and Ron Seaman; sophomores Dave Doty, Bill Skinner and Peter Whitcombe; and freshmen John Keeler and Stan Schade.

IRC PICKS NELSON

Dave Nelson was elected president of the International Relations Club for next year at a meeting held Wednesday night. Nelson is an ELS and succeeds Don Curry as head of the organization.

Dr. John S. Whale To Deliver Sermon In Chapel Sunday

By Sam Lang

The Rev. John S. Whale will deliver the sermon in Chapel this Sunday.

"Dr. Whale is one of the three or four most important theologians in the English-speaking world," says Dean William Hamilton.

Taught at Oxford

Reverend Whale received his M.A. degree at Oxon and his D.D. at Glasgow. From 1925-29 he was minister of Bowdon Downs Congregational Church, Manchester, England. Dr. Whale taught Ecclesiastical History at Mansfield College, Oxford, for the next five years, and then from 1933-44, he was President of Chestnut College at Cambridge.

From 1936 to 1941, Dr. Whale published five books, the most famous of which is The Christian Doctrine, printed in 1941.

Church Moderator

Dr. Whale was moderator of the Free Church Federal Council from 1942-43, and in 1943, he became Select Preacher at the University of Cambridge. He won the Warrack Lecturer award in 1944 and the Russel Lecturer prize in 1936 and again in 1948.

From 1944-51, Dr. Whale was Headmaster of Mill Hill School near London. He is presently engaged as Visiting Professor of Theology at Drew Theological Seminary, Madison, New Jersey.

Fulbright

John S. Gambs announced this week that juniors desiring to obtain applications for Fulbright fellowships should give to him a self-addressed envelope, measuring eight by ten inches and with six cents postage on it. He said he will send out the applications when they arrive in his office. Gambs warned those who will fill out the applications this summer not to take the required physical examination until next fall, since it is not acceptable if taken before then.

Mr. and James Wood had a baby girl on Thursday. Wood is a member of the English department.

IN THE MOOD

By Jim Moodey

Tomorrow's lacrosse game against Union on Steuben Field will mark not only the last appearance of the Blue stickmen this season, but also will be the final match for John Panatier as a Hamilton coach. Since his arrival on the Hamilton campus in September of 1948, John has done much to improve Continental varsity athletics, as coach of both the lacrosse and soccer squads. Furthermore, he has conscientiously and cheerfully performed his tasks as one of the school's physical education instructors.

When Panatier took over the coaching reins of the soccer squad in 1948, he found himself the director of the Hamilton team that the most people expected the least of in intercollegiate play. From the sport's founding on the Hill in 1920 until 1948, Blue soccer teams had finished at the .500 mark or better only four times. During the previous season the best the Continentals had been able to do was to tie two of six matches. However, in '48 John piloted the team to three wins and two ties in six engagements, the best record of any Hamilton soccer team in history up to that time. All told, in their four seasons under Panatier, the Hill booters have won fourteen, lost six and tied four, a more than respectable record for even the largest of universities.

Lacrosse, too, has flourished under Panatier, who has coached the only three formal Hamilton lacrosse squads in history. After the first formal lacrosse team had won two and dropped four in 1949, the game was discontinued as a regular intercollegiate sport. Last year, upon the resumption of the game as a formal intercollegiate sport, the Continenals won four of six maches. A victory in tomorrow's game with Union would enable the Blue to duplicate 1951's mark, and would bring Hamilton's all-time lacrosse record to ten victories and eight defeats.

Although the athletic teams, themselves, will miss John Panatier's presence next year, the many friends, students and faculty alike, that he has made in his stay on the Hill will miss him even more. We wish him the best of luck in his future endeavors.

As Hamilton's spring sports program swings into its final weekend, the observer's attention is again called to the fine record that Continental varsity squads have compiled since September. Figures on Hamilton games since the fall, and inclusive of last weekend, show that the Blue has won forty-three times, lost thirty-two and tied once. Especially impressive are the spring teams which have won twenty-two of thirty-one contests. Tennis leads the parade with a 7-1 mark, closely followed by track, 3-1, golf, 4-2, baseball, 5-3 and lacrosse, 3-2. This record speaks for itself.

Tennis Team Mauls UR, Ithaca, Hobart

Sporting a record of 21 victories in its last 22 matches, Hamilton's tennis team will face its toughest opposition of the current campaign when it meets the Cortland College netmen tomorrow afternoon on the local courts. Cortland, defeated only by Cornell this year, is led by a brother combination, Al and King Van Nostrand, the former being the only person to defeat Hamilton's Captain Jack Banks in two years of competition.

Saturday's match, the season's finale for the Continentals, will feature two very evenly matched clubs, as Cortland defeated Rochester, 5-4, earlier this year. During the past week, Hamilton defeated Rochester 6-3 to avenge the previous 5-4 loss to Rochester which snapped the Continental's undefeated streak at seventeen two weeks ago.

Besides defeating Rochester this past week, the Hamilton netmen also notched wins on the road against Ithaca, 8-1, and Hobart, 8-1, bringing their season's record to seven wins and one defeat. In the Rochester match, Banks (H) defeated Wiig (R) 6-1, 6-1; Gander (H) defeated Freeman (R) 6-4, 1-6, 7-5; Hills (H) defeated Pierce (R) 6-3, 3-6, 6-0; Peoples (R) over Farmer (H) 6-2, 6-1; Millspaugh (H) over Alexander (R) 6-3, 6-1; and Goodstein (H) defeated Fauch (R) 6-3, 6-2. In the doubles matches, Banks and Gander (H) over Wiig and Freeman (R) 6-2, 4-6, 6-1; Pierce and Peoples (R) defeated Arthur and Brigham (H) 10-8, 6-3; and Alexander and Broeffle (R) defeated Goodstein and Farmer (H) 6-1, 1-6, 6-4.

Trackmen To Meet Cortland; Wallop LeMoyne On Saturday

Coach Joe Smith's rapidly improving track team faces Cortland in the season's finale here tomorrow in what promises to be the outstanding meet of the year. The Continenals have been improving meet by meet, and now have won three of four contests. The Hillmen will be shooting for their fourth straight win, four track records and a victory over a Red Dragon squad which defeated the Blue last year.

Last Saturday, the Continentals recorded a season's high for themselves by literally running wild over LeMoyne College by a 106-24 count. The Blue swept the 100 yard and 220 yard dashes, the discus, the high jump and the pole vault. A first in the mile and a dead-heat tie in the high hurdles, both by Dick Matthews, provided the only LeMoyne victories, as the Continentals won fifteen first places.

Meanwhile, for Hamilton, Joe Maycock, Tom Puffer and Chris Lewnes finished 1-2-3 in the dashes, and John Egner, Ed Collins and Ron Telford duplicated the feat in the discus. Joe Hull won the high jump, with Jim Ryan second and John Ibach and Carl Wheeler tied for third. Ibach, who is being groomed as next year's hurdler, won the low hurdles in his first attempt at that even.

Blue Beats Dragons; To Play Union Here

By Dick Smalley

Last Saturday afternoon the Hamilton College lacrosse team won its third game of the season, and its second from Cortland, by a score of 11-9. Tomorrow the Continentals meet Union at Clinton.

Cortland, playing with a new goalie, made the game close all the way, actually leading by two goals at the end of the third period. Goals by Jim Brown and Bobby Maider gave Hamilton a 2-1 lead at the end of the first period. A goal by Bobby Fellows made the score 3-1 before two Cortland scores evened the count. Brown and Maider came through with their second goals of the game to match two more Cortland goals and tie the score at the half, 5-5.

Maider Shines

The third period saw Cortland take a two goal lead, as only Bud Menges scored for Hamilton. However, Brown's third and fourth goals and Peter Wood's first gave the Blue a 9-8 lead late in the fourth period. Cortland forced the game into overtime by scoring the tying goal with 26 seconds left in the game. Hamilton tallied two quick goals in the first overtime period, the first by Charlie Reach and the second by Maider, and elected to play possession ball thereafter.

The outstanding man on the field in the estimation of Coach Panatier was Bob Maider, who played his best game in a Blue uniform. Maider contributed three goals to the attack besides playing an outstanding field game from his midfield position. Jim Brown, with four goals, also played well among the attackmen. In the goal, Les Sirkin showed great promise, as he relieved Jake Sweet at the start of the fourth period and allowed only one score in the last 25 minutes. Defensively, seniors Hal Ferris and Si Keehn, and freshman Ed Reed played well.

44 Penalties Called

The tempo of the game is indicated by the fact that 44 penalties in all were called, 21 against Hamilton and 23 against Cortland. The game was rough but well played throughout. Panatier's pre-season runing and exercises paid off, as Cortland began to wilt in the later stages of the game, while Hamilton fin-

Union Strong

Coach Francis O'Brien will bring a strong team to Clinton tomorrow. Union has lost tough one goal games to Hofstra, Stevens and Williams, and has played other big lacrosse schools such as the R.P.I., Dartmouth and Cornell. Union's star attack man, "Lefty" Hufnagel, is back again this year. Hufnagel scored seven goals in his last game here in 1950.

AD Phi Cops Title In Softball League; 3 Tie For Second

Alpha Delta Phi edged Chi Psi, 8-6, last evening and thereby clinched the 1952 intramural softball crown. The Alpha Delts, led all season by the strong pitching of John Leahy and Dick Smalley, defeated every team in the league to finish with an 11-0 record. The loss dropped Chi Psi into a three-day tie for seecond place with Theta Delt and Psi U.

Going into the final week of play, six teams were in contention for the title, but Alpha Delt, by knocking off Psi U., Theta Delt, Sigma Phi and Chi Psi, won handily. Their task was made easier during the last week when the other teams in contention took turns at putting each other out of the race. First, Sig defeated Chi Psi and Theta Delt, only to lose to Psi U., who had already been upset by Lambda Chi. The complete final standings of the league have yet to be tabulated.

The Alpha Delt victory ended the two year reign of Theta Delt as softball champs, and also clinched the newly-inaugurated Intramural Trophy for the winners. Theta Delt's losses to the A.D.s and Sigs in the final week's play were their first defeats in three years.

Last Thursday, the Alpha Delts swept through both track and field events to win the intramural rack title by 15½ points from Theta Delt on a muddy track. The winners scored 69½ points, and were followed by Theta Delt, 54, DU, 38½, ELS, 29, Psi U., 23, TKE 18, Sig, 12½, Independents, 11, Chi Psi, 2, and Lambda Chi, 1½.

Will YOU Be at the Country Club 10 Years Hence?

(or, how sound is your business judgment?)

The answer to both questions will probably be provided by your selection of a career now.

You might, for example, go into a business that will disappear in 10 years, or one that is too dependent on defense contracts, or another where the opportunity is limited, or still another where your particular talents wouldn't find the best outlet.

There really isn't much sense in taking any of these risks. This large (6,000 staff members), world-wide (100 countries), essential business more than a century old—is seeking outstanding men with good academic and extra curricular records to train in numerous jobs leading to administrative, sales promotion or technical positions.

Your pay will be $3000 a year to start—while you are training. At the end of the first year your pay will be increased to $3,500 a year. A rent subsidy is also provided for those brought to New York for training.

After you have completed your course you will work in New York or in another leading U. S. business center. The future is yours to develop with every help the company can provide.

Write to R. C. Burke, Superintendent of Personnel, only after consultation with your Placement Bureau.

Blues Top Hartwick; Close Against Union

By Dan Goodstein

Behind the sterling pitching of Bill Galvin, Hamilton College's baseball team extended its season's record to five wins and three losses as Hartwick bowed to the locals, 9-3, on Steuben Field last Saturday afternoon. This was the last performance for Big Bill, who has all of the Blue's wins credited to his record to date. Galvin was called into the Naval Air Corps last Friday.

Tomorrow afternoon Coach Greg Batt's boys will play host to Union College on Steuben Field at 2:30. The Garnet upset the Blue, 4-3, with three markers in the last of the ninth inning at Schenectady earlier in the season. Coach Batt will call on Bill May, Comer Coppie, or Bill Cline for the mound assignment.

Triple Play For Blue

The Blue's win over Hartwick was highlighted by some fancy clutch pitching and by a spectacular triple play. Galvin, after walking the first two men to face him in the top of the eighth, speared Caple's low liner to the right of the mound, and fired to Jim Dunn at first for the second out. Dunn then relayed the ball to shortstop Rog Wood covering second for the inning ending triple play.

The Battmen jumped on losing hurler John Carroll for two runs in the first inning, on singles by Calkins, Grant and Galvin, a walk to Wood and two miscues afield.

Fribush Triples

The Continentals added three more unearned tallies in the third. After two were out, Grant reached first on an error. Galvin then singled through the middle, and Paul Lambert bobbled George Padgett's grounder to let one run across the plate. Marty Fribush then unloaded a long triple to left center to knock in two more runs.

Galvin had a no-hitter going until the fifth when Hartwick finally reached him for a safe blow. Sonny Russo singled, stole second, and rode home on two wild pitches by Galvin. Hartwick added their final two tallies in the sixth.

Galvin Walks 13

With Dinny Calkins on base, Rog Wood hit a two out 3-2 pitch over the right-field embankment for a home run to score the Continental's last two tallies in the eighth inning.

For Hamilton, Calkins, Fribush and Galvin led the attack with two hits each. Galvin was erratic at times, walking thirteen and striking out eight.

Westerday Hobart played host to the Hillmen in Peneva. The Statesmen recorded a win over Hamilton.

Schwarz Gets Award

Bill Schwarz, a senior and a member of ELS, is a winner of a Danforth Foundation fellowship, according to a letter received by him this week from the Foundation. The Fellowship, which is awarded to fifty-four students in the nation who see in a teaching career an opportunity for Christian thought and action, will enable Schwarz to study English Literature at Harvard University next year. Schwarz is past president of the Student Council and editor of The Hamiltonian.

Hill Golfers Beat Hobart, Rochester, Union During Week

Coach Don Jones' Hill golf team brought their season's record to six and two this past week as they defeated the University of Rochester, Union and Hobart. Tomorrow afternoon the Continentals will meet Cortland State Teachers on the local course in the season's finale for the Hillmen.

Last Saturday, the Blue upset Rochester by a 5-4 count at Rochester. Although Hamilton had won the first protested encounter at Clinton, they were handicapped in Saurday's match, due to the great length of the Rochester course. Most Continenal golf teams have found it hard to get accustomed to a long course after playing on the short Hamilton links.

The victory over Union avenged an earlier loss that the Blue suffered at the hands of the Garnet. The score of the match, played on the local links, was 7-2. Wednesday's victory over the Statesmen at Geneva, 5½ to 3½, was the second Hamilton golf win over Hobart this year. The Continentals had previously defeated the Purple at Clinton, 7-2.

Al Persons continues to shine for the Blue. He has lost only one match this year. Coach Jones is expected to start his usual team of Persons, Byrne Kinney, Dave Doty, Charlie Persons, Joe Bugliari and Don Robertson in tomorrow's match with Cortland.
